“ Love and deepest sympathy from Maja, Cam, Maja and Ted Anton. Uncle Jim was a pillar to the whole family, and a role model. We miss him deeply!

“ I was his only nephew and loved him very much. He was funny and passionate and really cared about all of us kids. He came from Greece, and Casanova Street in the Bronx, and in his Dumont home, he would call us in a high lilting voice, “Boys, want to pleh ball?” At holiday dinners he was the designated meat carver with his butcher knife and drink in hand, and my kids loved him too.

He fought as a soldier for Greece and worked for many years as a bartender in NY. He knew all the major sports figures I looked up to. He was master of his bar, abut he wanted his children most of all to get an education .In church he was the first to stand up and last to sit. He had funny sayings, and occasional malapropisms, being a native Greek speaker, such as Earsdrop for Eavesdrop.

We are all writing a book of our lives that we live every day. In my book, Uncle Jim was a main character. I thought he would live forever, and he will, in our hearts.
